How to put a casio fx-9750gii calculator in radian mode

Want to improve this question? Update the question so it's on-topic for Mathematics Stack Exchange. Closed 2 years ago. I have a calculator, specially the Casio fx-9750GII,but there is a "slight" error... When I put in, for example cos (76 I get the answer in radians. So, naturally as anyone that's not lazy would do I converted to degrees (instead of buying a new one :]) and I got the right answer, but everyone gets lazy sometimes, and I was wondering how to just set the calculator to degrees, if that is possible? Thanks in advance! Can someone remind me how to do this again? I've forgotten since last year =/ I mean by changing the settings, i know the manual method. Thanks You mean by pressing shift-Mode 'setup' and then 4 (Rad)? Or converting degrees to radians and radians to degrees? Multiply by pi/180 for deg to rad, or 180/pi for rad to deg, for conversions (Original post by fishkeeper) You mean by pressing shift-Mode 'setup' and then 4 (Rad)? Or converting degrees to radians and radians to degrees? The first option and thanks! Check out the DRG button click shift menu (setup) and then press 2 for angle unit then 2 again for radians
